

Predicting Tax Burdens: An International Empirical Perspective Using Cultural Factors

Karl Putnam
Kallol Bagchi
Gary P. Braun

University of Texas at El Paso

Presenter Karl Putnam is an Associate Professor of Accounting at the University of Texas at El Paso, where his teaching and research interests include government and not for profit accounting as well as financial and managerial accounting. He has authored or coauthored over 40 articles for professional and academic journals, including The Accounting Review, Journal of Accountancy, Journal of Accounting Auditing & Finance, Research in Accounting Regulation, CPA Journal, The Ohio CPA Journal, International Tax Journal, Taxes -- The Tax Magazine, Tax Executive, Tax Notes, Journal of Real Estate Taxation and Government Accountants Journal.