

Che-Hung Liu is a second year doctoral student at Decision Sciences and Information Systems Department (DSIC) at Florida International University (FIU) in Miami. His research interests include supply chain management and corporate governance.