

Yun-Chia Yan is a second year accounting doctoral student at Florida International University. He has backgrounds in both accounting and information systems areas. His research interests include corporate governance and accounting information systems.