

Nace Magner is the J. C. Holland Professor of Accounting at Western Kentucky University. He has a DBA from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and is a Certified Management Accountant. His primary research interests relate to antecedents and consequences of employees' perceptions of fairness in organizational control systems.