

Teresa P. Gordon, PhD., is Professor, Department of Accounting at the University of Idaho. Her primary research interest center around the uses of accounting information in the decision making of nonprofit and governmental organizations and their donors.