

AI/EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES SECTION
AMERICAN ACCOUNTING ASSOCIATION

CALL FOR PAPERS
SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL AI/EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES RESEARCH WORKSHOP
SATURDAY, AUGUST 2 2008

The Seventeenth Annual Research Workshop on AI/Emerging Technologies in Accounting, Auditing and Tax will be held Saturday, August 2, 2008 in Anaheim, CA. The Artificial Intelligence/Emerging Technologies Section of the American Accounting Association sponsors the Workshop. It is held in conjunction with the AAA Annual Meeting, August 3-6, 2008 in Anaheim, CA. The website for the Workshop is aaahq.org/aiet/events/workshop.html.

RESEARCH DOMAIN:

Papers are welcome in the application of Artificial Intelligence and other emerging technologies to any area of the accounting discipline. Papers may employ any aspect of artificial intelligence or emerging technologies. Examples presented at recent workshops include textual analysis, XML, XBRL, REA, continuous assurance, data mining, evidential reasoning, information modeling, genetic programming, artificial neural networks, natural language processing, intelligent databases, intelligent agents and object oriented computing.

GUIDELINES:

A submission to the Workshop is by an extended abstract with subsequent submission of the full paper. Early stage research and doctoral proposals from doctoral students are particularly encouraged. The registration fee is waived for doctoral students presenting their research. Papers will be considered for the AI/ET Section Journal, Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting (JETA), at the option of the author.

KEY DATES:

1 May 2008: Email extended abstract with paper title, name of authors and description of approximately 300 words or full paper to aietworkshop@yahoogleroups.com.

15 May 2008: Decisions emailed.

1 July 2008: Full papers due.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE:

- Roger Debreceeny, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa roger@debreceeny.com
- Carol Brown, Oregon State University Carol.Brown@bus.oregonstate.edu
- Amelia Baldwin, University of Alabama in Huntsville, Amelia.Baldwin@uah.edu