Charge:

- Number 1 Identify new tax faculty and doctoral students. Invite them to join the ATA and participate in the Midyear Meeting by way of a personal letter. Encourage them to submit papers to the New Faculty and Doctoral Students Paper Session at the Midyear Meeting. Encourage new faculty to apply for the ATA/PricewaterhouseCoopers Doctoral Dissertation Award.
- Number 2 Work with the Teaching Resources Committee to encourage new faculty to more fully use the teaching consultants and mentorship programs.
- Number 3 As needed, help new faculty become aware of places where working papers are posted and information on different research conferences where papers may be submitted for presentation.
- Number 4 Organize a New Faculty breakfast at the Midyear Meeting. Consider inviting more experience faculty to speak at the breakfast on topics such as development within the context of different types of schools.
- Number 5 Welcome and introduce new faculty and doctoral students at the Midyear Meeting.
