Calls for Papers / Expressions of interest

Following the very successful 6th International Conference on Tax Administration – Challenges of Globalising Tax Systems hosted by Atax (the Australian Tax Studies Program at The University of New South Wales) the 7th International Conference on Tax Administration will be held in Sydney, Australia on 20 & 21 April 2006. The conference will bring together academics, practitioners and officers of revenue authorities from around the world to discuss and compare contemporary issues and research in tax administration. There will be a number of high profile keynote speakers including Kim Bloomquist (Senior Economist in the United States Inland Revenue Service) and Richard Highfield (Head, Tax Administration Division, Centre for Tax Policy and Administration, OECD, Paris).

Key themes for the conference include:

- o International issues in tax administration
- o Self-assessment
- o Administration and compliance costs
- o Compliance behaviour
- o Change management
- o Taxpayer rights and obligations
- o Tax decision making and dispute resolution
- o Tax evasion
- o Ethical considerations and effective enforcement strategies

The conference is being held at the Crowne Plaza Resort, Coogee Beach. Conference delegates will be able to stay at the Resort or alternative accommodation can be arranged nearby. There will be several conference packages available from which delegates may choose according to their needs.

If you are interested in attending the conference

If you are interested in attending the conference please complete the form overleaf and return to Atax.

If you are interested in presenting a paper

If you are interested in presenting a paper please submit both an abstract of the proposed paper and a brief biographical sketch of the author(s) by Friday 9th September 2005 together with the completed form overleaf. A Steering Committee will then select papers for the conference and advise you of its decision by mid October 2005. The abstract should be between 200 and 500 words and should clearly indicate the title of the paper, its author(s), the status of the paper (for example, whether it is part of on-going research, whether it has been previously published, etc) together with an overview of its contents.

Those interested in presenting a paper are reminded that 'The Cedric Sandford Medal' will be awarded to the best paper (judged by an independent expert panel) presented at the conference. The medal is in memory of the late Emeritus Professor Cedric Sandford who died in 2004. Adrian Sawyer from the University of Canterbury was the inaugural recipient of 'The Cedric Sandford Medal' in 2004. The abstract, biography and completed form (overleaf) are to be sent to Anna Bartholomaeus.
