

Today's CPA is the professional journal of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants. With a readership of approximately 28,000, the journal reaches an audience of public practitioners, academics, and CPAs in industry and government. We are soliciting technical submissions in all topical areas, including:

- Financial accounting, auditing and assurance
- Regulation
- Ethics and corporate governance
- Information systems and technology
- Taxation
- Other specialized topics

As a peer reviewed journal, we are listed in the 2010 edition of Cabell's Directory of Publishing Opportunities. Submitted articles are reviewed by our Editorial Board, which consists of academic, public and industry members. The recommended word count is 2,100 to 3,000 words for a feature article.

All articles may be sent in electronic format to: ddeakins@tscpa.net or Bill\_Thomas@baylor.edu. We enthusiastically invite your submissions.
