Emerald invites you to publish your research in the International Journal of Accounting and Information Management

About the Journal

The International Journal of Accounting and Information Management is positioned at the forefront of scholarly research in areas embraced by the broad fields of accounting, finance, information systems and information management. The journal was recently acquired by Emerald in May 2007.

Editorial Objective

The journal's primary objective is to stimulate research in accounting, finance, information systems and information management and discuss issues of significance to both the private and public sector. Special emphases are placed on the interaction between these areas of research in an international context.

Editorial Criteria

All styles of research, theoretical and empirical, in the areas of financial accounting, management accounting, auditing, taxation, finance, information systems and information management are generally welcomed by the journal. Of particular interest are articles that relate to these areas in terms of empirical content and/or are of interest to scholars with international backgrounds.

Topicality

Recent global economic growth has caused tremendous pressure in the demand for accounting and information systems professionals in all areas. Reacting to this, universities and colleges have all rushed to offer accounting, finance, information systems and information management related programs. Scholarly and research activities in these areas also continue to grow apace. The rapid growth in these areas has, however, not been mirrored by a growth in specialist forums in which pertinent issues can be discussed and ideas exchanged. The journal aims to provide that forum and offer interested parties a platform to share their work.

Areas articles are welcomed in include:

- Accounting Education
- Auditing
- Accounting Theory and Practice
- Accounting Information and Systems
- Accounting Systems Management
- Behavioural Accounting
- Cost/Managerial Accounting
- International Financial Management
- International Financial Services
- Government and Non-profit Accounting
- International Accounting and Finance
- International Tax Accounting
- e-commerce in Accounting and Finance
- Public Responsibility and Ethics
- Technology Innovation Management
- Knowledge Management
