

Journal of Information Systems Best Paper Award

The Journal of Information Systems (JIS) Best Paper Award has been established by the AIS Section to recognize annually a paper published in JIS with the greatest impact or potential impact on accounting information systems research.

This award provides the winner(s) with not only recognition for producing high quality AIS research, but also a $1,000 cash prize for the author(s). JIS papers appearing in the 2016, 2017, or 2018 issues are eligible for the first award.

Nominations for the award will be accepted from members of the AIS Section. Self-nominations are welcomed and encouraged. Nominations should include a brief statement (no more than 2-3 paragraphs) explaining why the paper should be considered for the award. Please submit nominations for the Journal of Information Systems Best Paper Award by August 1, 2020.

Nominations should be sent to David Wang: david.wang@depaul.edu

Awards Committee Members:

David Wang, DePaul University (david.wang@depaul.edu)

Stewart Leech, University of Melbourne (saleech@unimelb.edu.au)

Neal Snow, Lehigh University (nes315@lehigh.edu)