2020 Notable Contribution to the Accounting Information Systems Literature Award

The Information Systems Section of the American Accounting Association announces the 2020 Notable Contributions to the Accounting Information Systems Literature Award competition. Its purpose is to recognize exceptional contributions to AIS research, theory and practice. Award winner(s) will be honored with a plaque presented at the AIS 2021 Midyear Meeting.

Criteria applicable to the award:

- Impact on accounting information systems research, theory, or practice communities.
- Relevance to and impact on the AIS and/or accounting research and practice communities.
- Topical or methodological originality and innovation.
- Exceptional development of theory.
- Award will be granted only if the committee deems the research contribution meets criteria.
- The author of the work must be a member of the AIS Section of the AAA during the 2019-2020 academic year.
- The entry should not be simultaneously submitted for consideration for an award sponsored by any other section of the American Accounting Association.

Criteria to the Notable Contribution to the Literature Award:

- Consideration shall be given to peer-reviewed books, monographs, and journal articles on research topics and methods in the field of accounting information systems (broadly defined).
- Published journal articles may be in any journal.
- The work must have been published prior to December 31, 2019

Nominations:

- Nomination must be made by a AAA AIS Section member; Self-nominations are encouraged.
- Nominating emails should include statements of the importance of the work and its current or potential impact on accounting information systems theory or practice.
- An electronic copy of the work must be provided.
- Submissions must be in either Word or pdf format: electronic submission only.
- Members of this year's Award Committee are not eligible.

Please submit nominations for the Notable Contribution to the Literature Award by August 1, 2020. Nominations should be sent to David Wang: david.wang@depaul.edu