President's Invitation

I warmly invite and strongly encourage you to attend the 108th Annual Meeting of the American Accounting Association, which will be held in Washington, DC at the Marriott Marquis Hotel and the Westin Washington, DC Downtown Hotel in the heart of the city.

The Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting (CTLA), which will be held on August 10-11, 2024, will include sessions to help educators of all levels improve their teaching. The AAA Annual Meeting, which will be held August 12-14, 2024, presents a tremendous opportunity to network with colleagues from the academy and the profession—from all over the country and the world—to push the boundaries of our research and teaching.

The theme of the Washington, DC meeting is “Revolutionizing Accounting Education.” I spoke about this topic at the 2023 Annual Meeting in Denver and addressed the accounting student enrollment crisis that Past President Mark C. Dawkins highlighted in his remarks at the 2022 Annual Meeting, underscoring the urgency of fostering innovation within our field.

The accounting pipeline is fraught with challenges that require our collective attention and action to resolve. The issue is so significant that, for the first time that we know of, three consecutive AAA presidents—Past President Mark C. Dawkins, myself, and President-Elect Audrey A. Gramling—are each focusing on elements of the enrollment declines with the goal for the academy to work together collectively with pipeline stakeholders to turn the tide. In late September 2023, the three of us recently attended the Future Accountants Stakeholder Symposium, also convening in Washington, DC, and co-hosted by the AAA and the National Association of Black Accountants (NABA). There were about 80 individuals representing numerous stakeholder organizations engaged—with the help of two fantastic facilitators, EY Foundation Executive Director Ellen Glazerman, and talented executive consultant Loretta Penn—about issues driving declines in accounting student enrollment and how to reverse them. We learned a great deal and hope that the efforts launched by the symposium will help resolve the issue.

Highlights of this year's meeting are a lead Keynote Speech by Steven M. R. Covey. Steven's deep insights into human effectiveness not only in work, but in life will be super motivating. Steven's keynote will be followed by a panel session where members can further engage around the topics he will address. At Tuesday's morning plenary, we have two Presidential Scholars: current editor of the AAA's flagship journal The Accounting Review, Emory University's Goizueta Business School Schaefer Chaired Professor of Accounting Kathryn Kadous, and University of South Florida Professor of Instruction and Associate Dean of Undergraduate Programs Jennifer M. Cainas. Both Kathryn and Jennifer followed different pathways in the academy, but have made significant contributions overall. As generative artificial intelligence has burst onto the scene as an emerging topic with implications not only for accounting, but also business and life in general, Tuesday's luncheon speaker will be EY's Global Assurance Artificial Intelligence Leader Richard Jackson. Finally, Wednesday's plenary will feature President Elect Audrey A. Gramling, to whom I will pass the gavel, as it were. Audrey will address us regarding her focus for the next year of AAA's direction under her leadership.

Like previous meetings, the 2024 Annual Meeting will include At-Large Sessions and Concurrent Sessions focusing on research and teaching, current hot-topics in the profession including such things as generative AI, data analytics and technology, ESG, and sessions devoted to revolutionizing accounting education to reverse the trend in declining accounting enrollments.

Mark H. Taylor,
2023-2024 AAA President

I strongly encourage you to share your insights, volunteer to moderate sessions, and be a part of the crucial dialogue on how we can revolutionize accounting education to better attract, encourage, prepare, and retain our future accounting professionals! Your contributions will add immense value to our discussions and solutions.

The AAA Staff has designed the 2024 meeting to be family friendly. Washington, DC offers many, many attractions including the White House, the Capitol Building, the Washington Monument, various memorials, and numerous Smithsonian Museums and Galleries for the whole family to enjoy and learn from. The AAA Annual Meeting website highlights family experiences and activities in the city and surrounding areas.

I look forward to seeing YOU in Washington, DC this August 2024 for an exciting AAA Annual Meeting!

Regards,

Mark H. Taylor
2023-2024 AAA President

Our Featured Speakers

Monday, August 12, 2024 Plenary Speaker

Stephen M. R. Covey

Trust & Inspire

Stephen M. R. Covey is co-founder of CoveyLink and the FranklinCovey Global Trust Practice. A sought-after and compelling keynote speaker and advisor on trust, leadership, ethics, and collaboration, he speaks to audiences around the world. He is The New York Times and #1 Wall Street Journal bestselling author of The Speed of Trust, a groundbreaking and paradigm-shifting book that challenges our age-old assumption that trust is merely a soft, social virtue and instead demonstrates that trust is a hard-edged, economic driver. The Speed of Trust has been translated into 22 languages and has sold over 2 million copies worldwide.

Stephen M. R. Covey

Stephen is also the author of the newly released The Wall Street Journal bestseller, Trust & Inspire: How Truly Great Leaders Unleash Greatness in Others, which was named as the #1 Leadership Book of 2022 by the Outstanding Work of Literature Awards. While the world has changed, our style of leadership has not. Most leaders and organizations—faced with ever new and disrupting challenges—continue to operate from a base model of “Command & Control;” they’ve just become more advanced and sophisticated at it, what Stephen calls “Enlightened Command & Control.”

In contrast to Command & Control, Trust & Inspire is all about unleashing greatness in others. Leading in a way that both inspires and empowers people to become the best version of themselves—tapping into a sense of purpose, meaning, contribution and inclusion. The result is a level of belonging, collaboration, and ultimately innovation that Command & Control is simply not capable of producing. Stephen asserts that trust has become the new currency of our world, and that having the ability to develop, extend, and restore trust with all stakeholders is the number one competency of leadership needed today. He passionately delivers this message and is dedicated to enabling individuals and organizations to reap the dividends of high trust throughout the world. Audiences and organizations alike resonate with his tangible, practical approach to trust.

Stephen is the former CEO of Covey Leadership Center, which, under his direction, became the largest leadership development company in the world. He personally led the strategy that propelled his father’s book, Dr. Stephen R. Covey’s The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People, to become one of the two most influential business books of the 20th Century, according to CEO Magazine. A Harvard MBA, Stephen joined Covey Leadership Center as a Client Developer, became National Sales Manager, and then President & CEO. Under Stephen’s leadership, the company achieved Inc. 500 status, nearly doubled revenues while increasing profits by 12 times, and expanded into over 40 countries. This greatly increased the value of the brand and company. Within three years of being named CEO, Stephen had increased shareholder value by 67 times in a merger with then FranklinQuest to form FranklinCovey.

Over the years, Stephen has gained considerable respect and influence with executives and leaders of Fortune 500 companies as well as with mid- and small-sized private sector and public sector organizations he’s consulted. Clients recognize his unique perspective on real-world organizational issues based on his practical experience as a former CEO.

Stephen serves on numerous boards, including the Government Leadership Advisory Council, and he has been recognized with the lifetime Achievement Award for “Top Thought Leaders in Trust” from the advocacy group, Trust Across America/Trust Around the World.

Stephen resides with his wife and children in the shadows of the Rocky Mountains.

The Seventeenth Annual AAA Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting

Saturday, August 10 and Sunday, August 11

The Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting (CTLA) is dedicated to improving faculty skills and expanding faculty resources with a goal of effective student learning. The Conference achieves these pursuits through presentations and panel discussions on instructional best practices, emerging technologies, and practitioner needs; sharing of creative classroom activities and cases; and networking opportunities with colleagues.

Teaching, Learning, and Technology focused 50-minute (1.0 CPEs) sessions including interactive concurrent sessions and mini-teaching tips sessions.

- Best practices in teaching
- Integrating leading-edge technologies
- Improving critical thinking skills
- Assessing student learning
- Motivating and facilitating learning
- Course-specific innovations

Who Should Attend the CTLA?

The CTLA is designed for all interested in developing, refining, and perfecting their teaching strategies and materials and their craft of accounting education. New faculty and Ph.D. students, as well as experienced faculty, are encouraged to attend and participate.

This Year's Meeting

The 2024 CTLA will provide a day and a half of valuable CPE credit for one low price! Your registration fee includes continental breakfast, lunch, and a reception on Saturday, continental breakfast on Sunday, and admission to the AAA Sunday evening Exhibit Hall reception. Sunday afternoon you are free to explore Washington, DC or attend AAA CPE sessions.

Our Keynote Speaker:

David A. Wood,

Brigham Young University

Saturday, August 10 from 8:20 am-9:50 am

David is passionate about understanding new technologies and implementing them into the curriculum of Brigham Young University, where he works as the Glenn D. Ardis professor of accounting. David received his Ph.D. at Indiana University and his BS and MAcc degrees at Brigham Young University. At BYU, David teaches accounting data analytics and accounting information systems. David has published over 150 articles in a combination of respected academic and practitioner journals, monographs, books, and cases. His research has won multiple best paper awards. David is a current or past editor at five journals and editorial board member for nine journals. He works with the EY ARC to develop curriculum that is provided for free to academics throughout the world (see <https://eyarc.site/>). He is also a coauthor on the market-leading AIS textbook, Accounting Information Systems by Romney, Steinbart, Summers, and Wood and codeveloper of the <https://www.byuaccounting.net/> and <https://www.techhub.training> websites.

CTLA EXHIBITORS:

28th Annual Ethics Research Symposium

Sunday, August 11, 2024

Do accounting ethics inspire you? If so, then the 28th Annual Ethics Research Symposium is for you! All AAA members are invited to attend the Symposium on Sunday, August 11, 2024, preceding the AAA Annual Meeting in downtown Washington, DC.

The themes of this year's Symposium include Accounting Regulation and CSR. We encouraged a diverse set of research including, but not limited to, the following: accountability, AI and ethics in accounting, codes of conduct, compliance, corporate governance, DEI, ESG, fraud, and whistleblowing. To that end we are thrilled to announce that our keynote speaker for the event will be the newest PCAOB board member, George Botic. His bio can be found here: <https://pcaobus.org/about/the-board/board-bios/george-r-botic>

Accounting Ethics Research Symposium

The Symposium encourages thoughtful research on the ethical applications of teaching, practice, and/or business that ultimately benefits the individual, government, or society. Accordingly, we challenge researchers in other accounting areas to identify and address the ethical implications of their research. As in previous years, we will have multiple concurrent research sessions throughout the morning and afternoon on a wide variety of topics, including a panel of editors on how to get your ethics research published. The Symposium will conclude with a panel organized and moderated by Steve M. Mintz that includes Cynthia Cooper.

We also want to inform you of two awards that will be given out at the luncheon: Accounting Exemplar Award and Excellence in Accounting Ethics Education Award.

AAA members can attend the Ethics Symposium without registering for the Annual Meeting. To register for the Ethics Research Symposium only, please contact info@aaahq.org.

Early Registration Fee (if paid by July 9, 2024 at 11:59 pm Eastern): $275

Registration Fee (if paid July 10-July 31, 2024 at 11:59 pm Eastern): $325

Note: You will not be able to register after July 31, 2024 or onsite.

Questions can be sent to the Ethics Research Symposium Organizers: William F. Miller, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire (millerwf@uwec.edu) and Steven M. Mintz, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo (smintz@calpoly.edu).

AAA Career Center

Career Center at the Annual Meeting

August 10–August 13, 2024 | Washington, DC

Welcome to the Career Center at the Annual Meeting (CCAM).

The CCAM is the AAA's most encompassing recruiting event. The 2024 CCAM brings candidates and recruiting institutions together to make career connections from across the world. Held in conjunction with the AAA Career Center, the 2024 CCAM offers services that make job recruitment affordable and efficient for both recruiting institutions and candidates.

What to Expect in 2024?

We will have expanded Interview Hall hours and have FREE Wi-Fi. The Interview Hall will be located in the Marriott Marquis, Washington, DC.

- Our scheduled start times begin at 7:30 am. Each day will have two sessions that run from 7:30 am–1:30 pm and 1:30 pm–7:30 pm. We have extended the availability by two hours!
- The Interview Hall will kick off on Saturday, August 10, and run through Tuesday, August 13. We know that you want to make the most of your time at the Annual Meeting and these extended hours, along with access to Wi-Fi in the hotel, will enable you to do just that.

Recruiters:

Make your reservation for the Interview Hall today. We offer privacy draped tables with seating for three and an adjacent candidate waiting area. Table reservations are first come, first served. Reserve your tables right away. Please note if you have more than two recruiters interviewing, we cannot guarantee extra chairs will be available. Consider reserving two tables for each session, and we will be sure they are adjacent to each other. Candidates are not permitted into the Interview Hall unless accompanied by a recruiter.

Candidates:

Register to attend the Interview Process Workshop. There is no charge for this workshop, but registration is required. The workshop will be held on Sunday, August 11 at 2:00 pm. Please note that the Interview Hall is not for walk-in interviews; they are by appointment only.

We invite you to take advantage of these opportunities. For more information on the Career Center and the events at the Annual Meeting, please visit the Career Center:

<https://aaahq.org/Meetings/2024/Annual-Meeting/Career-Center>

Requests for Meeting Space and Alumni Functions

Meeting space may be reserved at both hotels for events held during the 2024 AAA Annual Meeting in Washington, DC. Alumni events and other functions may be scheduled during the following times, space permitting:

- Sunday, August 11: Breakfast, lunch, and evening functions
- Monday, August 12: Breakfast, lunch, and evening functions
- Tuesday, August 13: Breakfast and evening functions
- Wednesday, August 14: Breakfast functions

Questions can be sent to Kelli Rickrode at the American Accounting Association (kelli.rickrode@aaahq.org).

Room assignments for requested space will begin in June 2024. You can request space online at

<https://aaahq.org/Meetings/2024/Annual-Meeting/Event%20Requests>

We will need to know the period during which you wish to hold your meeting/function (date, time, and length); the name of the event; estimated attendance; and the names, telephone number, and email address of the contact person. Events with food and beverage will be coordinated directly with the Hotel Catering Department where the event is scheduled for menu selection and payment.

2024–2025 AAA Membership Dues

Annual Meeting registration policy requires payment of membership dues for the September 2024 to August 2025 year. We offer an unparalleled range of membership benefits designed to help you grow throughout your career.

- Membership dues include Digital Library Access to The Accounting Review, Accounting Horizons, and Issues in Accounting Education. In addition, the online journals Accounting and the Public Interest, Behavioral Research in Accounting, Journal of Emerging Technologies in Accounting, Journal of Financial Reporting, Journal of Forensic Accounting Research, Journal of Information Systems, Journal of International Accounting Research, Journal of Management Accounting Research, The ATA Journal of Legal Tax Research, and The Journal of the American Taxation Association are available to all AAA members. Current Issues in Auditing and the Journal of Government & Nonprofit Accounting are Open Access journals.
- Members have the opportunity to join any of our 17 Sections, and are also part of the region they work in. For more about Sections, please visit <http://aaahq.org/Sections-Regions>
- Members may add print subscriptions to AAA journals for an additional cost: The Accounting Review: $90, Accounting Horizons: $55, and Issues in Accounting Education: $55.
- An additional benefit of membership is access to the AAA Career Center, which provides the opportunity to post/search jobs and resumes.

If you have any questions about membership, our Membership Team is ready to serve you at 941-921-7747 or email info@aaahq.org.

AAA Service Project

2024 Service Project: World Central Kitchen

We are proud to announce that the AAA is supporting World Central Kitchen for the 2024 Service Project in Washington, DC. As the largest community of accountants in academia, we are fortunate to be able to make a difference in the lives of so many families that need help.

It's easy to Donate.
Choose the easiest way for you.

- Donate directly to World Central Kitchen. Click HERE to learn more and to donate.
- Donate via Fax or Mail. Click HERE for the donation form.
- Donate via your AAA Member Portal. Click HERE to donate.
- Donate in person at the Service Project Desk in the Marriott Marquis Washington, DC hotel.

Your tax-deductible donation (U.S.) will be used towards World Central Kitchen's general operating support. World Central Kitchen earns Charity Navigator's "4-Star" rating as well as a "Gold" status from GuideStar.

World Central Kitchen (WCK) is first to the frontlines, providing meals in response to humanitarian, climate, and community crises. When disaster strikes, WCK's Relief Team mobilizes to the frontlines with the urgency of now to start cooking and provide meals to people in need. By partnering with organizations on the ground and activating a network of local restaurants, food trucks, or emergency kitchens, WCK serves comforting meals to survivors of disasters quickly and effectively. Good food provides not only nourishment, but also comfort and hope, especially in times of crisis.

WCK has provided more than 350 million fresh, nourishing meals for communities around the world. Your donation today will be used to support our emergency food relief efforts.

"When you need medical service, you bring doctors and nurses. When you need the rebuilding of infrastructure, you bring in engineers and architects. And if you have to feed people, you need professional chefs."

José Andrés, WCK Founder & Chief Feeding Officer

What is World Central Kitchen?

Food is essential to life every single day, all over the world—and it is more important than ever in a crisis. Not only is a thoughtful, freshly prepared meal one less thing someone has to worry about in the wake of a disaster, it is a reminder that you are not alone, someone is thinking about you, and someone cares. Food has the power to be the nourishment and hope we need to pick ourselves back up in the darkest times.

In 2010, Chef José Andrés, ready to use his culinary knowledge and talent to help, headed to Haiti following a devastating earthquake. Cooking alongside displaced families in a camp, he was guided on the proper way to cook black beans the way Haitians like to eat them: mashed and sieved into a creamy sauce. It wasn't just about feeding people in need—it was about listening, learning, and cooking side by side with the people impacted by the crisis. This is the real meaning of comfort food, and it's the core value that José, along with his wife Patricia, used at the center of founding World Central Kitchen (WCK).

WCK is first to the frontlines, providing meals in response to humanitarian, climate, and community crises. Applying our model of quick action, leveraging local resources, and adapting in real time, WCK has served hundreds of millions of nourishing meals around the world. To support regional economies, WCK prioritizes purchasing local ingredients to cook with or distribute directly to families in need. We know that good food provides not only nourishment, but also comfort and hope, especially in times of crisis.

What Is the Service Project?

The Service Project was born out of the generous nature of the AAA's members and their desire to give back to the local communities in the cities where the Annual Meeting was held.

From 2011 through 2016, on behalf of its members, the AAA supported local communities with donations of thousands of new backpacks filled with school supplies.

In 2017, the AAA began taking a more global approach to giving back and helping those who may otherwise go without by partnering with ShelterBox. The donations collected were used to provide essential emergency shelter and lifesaving equipment to families displaced due to natural disasters or humanitarian crises across the world.

In 2024, the AAA is proud to support World Central Kitchen. Your support is greatly appreciated!

Together, we can make a difference in the lives of children and families around the world. The AAA thanks you for your donation to the Service Project!
