Join Us in San Diego for This Year's Annual Meeting August 5 through August 9!

The theme of the 2017 Annual Meeting in San Diego, CA is "Imagining Our Future," as the American Accounting Association begins its second century. As Thought Leaders in Accounting, we will continue to explore the roles that we can take to shape the future of the profession, both in response to and in anticipation of the changes in our global environment.

Please join us in San Diego, from August 5 through August 9, 2017, for the Annual Meeting and Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting (CTLA) as we embark on the next 100 years' journey and help our Association to become an even stronger and more engaged community!

2017 AAA Annual Meeting, August 5–9

Welcome from the President, David Burgstahler

As the 2016–2017 President, I invite you to join us for the 2017 Annual Meeting of the American Accounting Association to be held in San Diego, CA! The theme of this year’s meeting, “Imagining Our Future,” will explore the various ways we can shape the future of accounting as we embark on the AAA’s second century. Accounting will continue to play a critical role in a prosperous society. As the world’s leading academic accounting organization and as Thought Leaders in Accounting, we must respond to the challenges of our ever-changing environment.

The meeting will start on Saturday, August 5 with a wide array of pre-meeting sessions and workshops, including the Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting (CTLA), which attracts an increasing number of members each year. As in past years, there will be a variety of sessions of interest to accounting educators. Please see the special CTLA program insert included in the Accounting Education News newsletter.

The plenaries and concurrent sessions will take place from Monday morning, August 7, through the evening of Wednesday, August 9, and will feature numerous planned discussions, panels, and events. The Monday morning plenary session will feature three speakers addressing ways to increase the relevance of accounting research. Bob Swieringa will discuss strengthening connections to practice, Cathy Schrand will focus on enhancing the journal review process, and Bob Kaplan will consider revisions to academic performance evaluation. Each speaker will also chair a follow-up panel discussion devoted to his or her topic later in the day on Monday.

Each year, the AAA President has the pleasure of selecting one or more Presidential Scholars whose work has made fundamental contributions to the discipline of Accounting. I am delighted that S. P. Kothari and Richard Sloan will be speaking at the plenary session on Tuesday morning as this year’s Presidential Scholars. Tuesday’s luncheon speaker will be psychologist and author of The Invisible Gorilla, Dan Simons. Wednesday’s plenary will feature Harvard University psychologist and author Steven Pinker. Anne Christensen, the AAA’s 2016–2017 President-Elect, will be our featured speaker at the Wednesday luncheon.

ROBERT J. SWIERINGA

Robert J. Swieringa is Professor Emeritus of Accounting and the Anne and Elmer Lindseth Dean Emeritus at The Johnson School at Cornell University. Professor Swieringa earned a B.A. degree in economics from Augustana College, an M.B.A. in accounting and economics from the University of Denver, and a Ph.D. in accounting and complex organizations from the University of Illinois. Swieringa's teaching interests are in the areas of corporate financial reporting, corporate governance, and the use of accounting information for decision making and performance evaluation.

Swieringa was a member of the accounting faculty at the Stanford Graduate School of Business (1968-1974) and at Johnson (1974-1985) before serving as a member of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) from 1986 to 1996. FASB is the key policy-making organization for accounting issues in the United States, and Swieringa gained wide visibility and influence in the corporate community through his work with the group. Swieringa was a professor in the practice of accounting at the Yale School of Management (1996-1997) before returning to Johnson in 1997 as the Anne and Elmer Lindseth Dean from 1997 to 2007 and professor of accounting from 1997 to 2015. He was a visiting scholar at Harvard Business School in fall 2007.

An outstanding teacher and lecturer, Swieringa won the Justice Foundation Award for Outstanding Teaching at Cornell and has received numerous awards and honors in recognition of his scholarly and professional work. His research interests are in corporate financial reporting, corporate governance, and behavioral accounting.

Professor Swieringa is a past chair of the board of directors of the Graduate Management Admission Council, which provides the GMAT, the most widely used assessment test in graduate business studies. He is a member of the American Accounting Association and is a past president of its Financial Accounting and Reporting Section. He was a member of the board of directors of General Electric (2002-2016), a member of the board of trustees of Augustana College (2007-2015), and has been a member of the board of managers of the Partners Group Private Equity Fund (USA) since 2009.

CATHY SCHRAND

Catherine Schrand is the Celia Z. Moh Professor and Professor of Accounting at The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, where she started her academic career in 1994. She is the vice dean of Wharton Doctoral Programs and the faculty director of Undergraduate Research and Scholars Programs. She has a B.B.A. from the University of Michigan and an M.B.A. and Ph.D. from The University of Chicago. She was a staff auditor and audit manager for KPMG Peat Marwick.

Schrand's research interests are in firms' risk management practices, the effects of disclosure on firms' cost of capital, and earnings quality. She has published research articles in academic journals, including The Accounting Review, Contemporary Accounting Research, Journal of Accounting & Economics, The Journal of Finance, Journal of Financial

Economics, and Review of Accounting Studies. She has also published practitioner-oriented articles based on her research for Risk magazine and several textbooks and practitioner handbooks. She serves on the editorial boards of the Journal of Accounting & Economics, Journal of Accounting Research, Journal of Financial Reporting, and Journal of Financial Services Research, and she is an ad hoc reviewer for numerous accounting and finance journals. She is the co-author of a monograph on earnings quality for the CFA Institute (formerly the Association for Investment Management and Research) and for the Journal of Accounting & Economics.

Professor Schrand is the past president of the American Accounting Association's Financial Accounting Reporting Section and has served on or chaired several committees of the AAA, including the Financial Accounting Standards Committee. She was on the founding committee of the Journal of Financial Reporting and the editor of the inaugural issue. She has served on 17 dissertation committees at The Wharton School (chair of ten).

ROBERT S. KAPLAN

Robert S. Kaplan is the Senior Fellow and Marvin Bower Professor of Leadership Development, Emeritus, Harvard Business School. He is the co-developer of both activity-based costing and the Balanced Scorecard (BSC). His research, teaching, and consulting link cost and performance management systems to successful strategy execution. He currently works, with Michael Porter's Value-Based Health Care initiative, to introduce time-driven, activity-based costing and value-based bundled payments that motivate the delivery of better patient outcomes at lower cost. He also is applying his strategy execution framework to help organizations create and implement shared value strategies that generate strong financial returns while transforming socioeconomic conditions for residents of low-income communities.

Kaplan has authored or co-authored 14 books and more than 175 papers, including 25 in Harvard Business Review. Recent books include The Execution Premium: Linking Strategy to Operations for Competitive Advantage, the fifth Balanced Scorecard book co-authored with David Norton, and Time-Driven Activity-Based Costing with Steve Anderson. His previous books with Norton include Alignment, Strategy Maps, named as one of the top ten business books of 2004 by Strategy & Business and Amazon.com; The Strategy-Focused Organization, named by Cap Gemini Ernst & Young as the best international business book for year 2000; and The Balanced Scorecard: Translating Strategy into Action, which has been translated into 24 languages and won the 2001 Wildman Medal from the American Accounting Association (AAA) for its impact on practice. He also co-authored Cost and Effect, Implementing Activity-Based Cost Management, and Relevance Lost: The Rise and Fall of Management Accounting, which received the 2007 AAA Seminal Contributions to Literature Award.

Kaplan joined the Harvard Business School faculty in 1984 after spending 16 years on the faculty of the Tepper School at Carnegie Mellon University, where he served as Dean from 1977 to 1983. He received a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a Ph.D. in operations research from Cornell University, and several honorary doctorates.

Elected to the Accounting Hall of Fame in 2006, Kaplan received the AAA Outstanding Accounting Educator Award in 1988 and Lifetime Contribution Awards from the Management Accounting Section of the AAA in 2006 and the Institute of Management Accountants in 2008. The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (U.K.) granted the 1994 CIMA Award for Outstanding Contributions to the Accountancy Profession. Kaplan speaks globally on strategy execution and cost and performance management.

S. P. KOTHARI

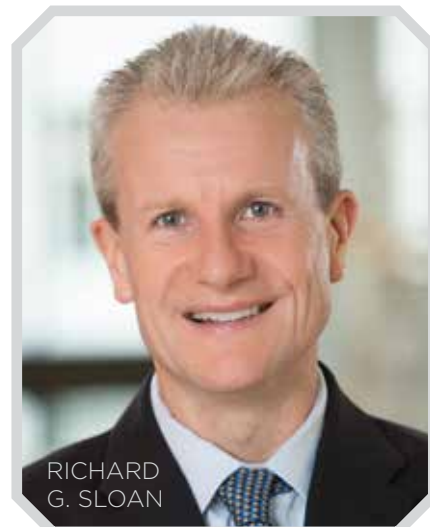

S. P. Kothari is the Gordon Y Billard Professor of Accounting and Finance and former deputy dean at the Sloan School of Management. He also serves as the faculty director of the MIT-India Program. Previously, he served as global head of equity research for Barclays Global Investors (BGI), responsible for research supporting BGI's active equity strategies, from 2008 to 2009. The actively managed equity portfolio had in excess of $100 billion in assets, and the research team was comprised of approximately 50 Ph.D.s based in San Francisco, London, and Sydney. Earlier, Kothari was head of the Department of Economics, Finance, and Accounting at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Sloan School of Management. This department included approximately 75 professors and lecturers and an administrative staff.

Kothari's highly cited research focuses on financial reporting and valuation, asset allocation, explaining the diversity in international accounting practices, use of employee stock options for compensating executives and accounting for stock options, evaluating investment performance, and corporate uses of derivatives for hedging and speculation. The American Accounting Association (AAA) honored his work with the 2014 Notable Contributions to Accounting Literature Award. For the past 20 years, Kothari has served as an editor of the Journal of Accounting & Economics, a world-renowned academic research journal in accounting. He is an expert on economic policy issues and has written numerous opinion-page editorials in The Economic Times.

Kothari has frequently served as a senior consultant with Charles River Associates, a business economics and litigation support consulting firm. He has consulted with many large corporations, including leading U.S. and international banks and asset management companies, Australian television broadcast corporations, U.S. steel companies, E&Y, KPMG, PwC, and the U.S. Department of Justice. Kothari served on the board of VVisions from 1998 to 2004 and is currently on the board of FIA Global.

Kothari received his B.E. (Hons.) from the Birla Institute of Technology & Science, Pilani; his M.B.A. from the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad; and his Ph.D. from The University of Iowa. He has also received an honorary doctorate, Doctor Honoris Causa, from the University of Technology Sydney (May 2013) and a Distinguished Alumnus Award from Birla Institute of Technology & Science, Pilani (2013).

Richard G. Sloan is the Emile R. Niemela Chair in Accounting and International Business at the Haas School of Business, University of California, Berkeley. For the 2017-2018 academic year, he is Visiting Professor of Accounting at the University of Southern California and is on leave from the University of

RICHARD
G. SLOAN

California, Berkeley. From 2006 to 2009, Sloan was a managing director in equity research at Barclays Global Investors. He has also served on the faculties of the University of Michigan's Ross School of Business and the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School. While at the University of Michigan, Professor Sloan was the founding director of the John R. and Georgene M. Tozzi Electronic Business and Finance Center.

Professor Sloan's research focuses on the role of accounting information in investment decisions. His research has received numerous awards, including the American Accounting Association's Seminal Contributions to Accounting Literature Award (2016), the American Accounting Association's Distinguished Contributions to Accounting Literature Award (2010), and the American Accounting Association's Notable Contributions to Accounting Literature Award (2001, 2009). He is the co-author (with Russell Lundholm) of Equity Valuation and Analysis, published by McGraw-Hill Irwin and now in its third edition. He is also an editor of the Review of Accounting Studies and an associate editor of the Journal of Financial Economics. Professor Sloan holds a Ph.D. in accounting from the University of Rochester and a B.Com. (Hons.) from The University of Western Australia.

DANIEL SIMONS

Daniel Simons is a Professor of Psychology, Advertising, and Business Administration at the University of Illinois, where he heads the Visual Cognition Laboratory. His research explores the limits of awareness and memory, the reasons why we often are unaware of those limits, and the implications of such limits for our personal and professional lives. He is best known for his research that shows people are far less aware of their visual surroundings than they think.

Simons received his B.A. from Carleton College and his Ph.D. in experimental psychology from Cornell University. He then spent five years on the faculty at Harvard University before being recruited to Illinois in 2002. He has published more than 100 articles for professional journals, and his work has been supported by the National Institutes of Health, the National Science Foundation, and the Office of Naval Research. He is a fellow and charter member of the Association for Psychological Science, an Alfred P. Sloan Fellow, and has received many awards for his research and teaching, including the 2003 Early Career Award from the American Psychological Association.

In addition to his scholarly research, he is the co-author (with Christopher Chabris) of The New York Times bestselling book, The Invisible Gorilla. He has penned articles for The New York Times, Wall Street Journal, the Los Angeles Times, and the Chicago Tribune (among others), and he appears regularly on radio and television. His work has been exhibited in more than a dozen science museums worldwide and includes some of the best-known demonstrations in psychology.

Steven Pinker asks audacious questions about the human mind—then boldly sets out to answer them. Named one of Time magazine's "100 Most Influential People in The World," he is a brilliant speaker, is enormously popular in the media, and highly respected in scientific circles. And for good reason.

STEVEN PINKER

Known for his verve, wit, and profound ideas—many of them explained by referencing pop culture—Steven Pinker helps non-specialists understand the science behind human thought and action. One of the world’s leading cognitive scientists, Pinker translates his groundbreaking research into articles (he has written for The New York Times and Nature) and books that are accessible to the general reader. His books include a new title The Sense of Style: The Thinking Person’s Guide to Writing in the 21st Century (about the power of communication, language, and good writing); The Better Angels of Our Nature, which garnered a New York Times Book Review Notable Book of the Year award and was chosen for Mark Zuckerberg’s book club; and The Blank Slate and How The Mind Works, both bestsellers, and both finalists for the Pulitzer Prize. His acclaimed “language” series includes The Language Instinct; Words and Rules; The Stuff of Thought: Language as a Window into Human Nature; and The Sense of Style.

A native of Montreal, Pinker is the Johnstone Professor of Psychology at Harvard University and has also taught at Stanford University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, has won a number of teaching prizes, and was named among Newsweek’s “100 Americans for the Next Century.” His research on visual cognition and the psychology of language has received numerous awards, including the Troland Award from the National Academy of Sciences.

ANNE CHRISTENSEN

Anne Christensen is a Professor of Accounting in the Jake Jabs College of Business & Entrepreneurship at Montana State University, where she has served as director of the Master of Professional Accountancy Program, director of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program, a member of the Graduate Council, and on the University Service Learning Advisory Board. She was previously a member of the faculty at Portland State University. She earned her Ph.D. from The University of Utah.

Professor Christensen has published extensively in peer-reviewed journals, including Issues in Accounting Education, The Journal of the American Taxation Association, ATA Journal of Legal Tax Research, Advances in Accounting Education, Journal of Business Ethics, Financial Accountability and Management, and Advances in Taxation. She has served on the editorial board for Issues in Accounting Education, Accounting Horizons, The Journal of the American Taxation Association, and Journal of Accounting Education.

Christensen served the AAA as Director-Focusing on Segments (2012-15) and on AAA’s Sharpening Our Vision Taskforce I and II (2013-14). She is a member of AAA’s ABO, ATA, and TLC Sections. She served on the AAA Council (2008-09 and 2001-03), as president (2010-11) and program chair (2009-10) of the Western Region, as president (2001-02), vice president (1999-2000), and trustee (2010-12 and 2002-04) of ATA, as chair of ATA’s Publication Committee (2011-12), ATA/Deloitte Teaching Innovation Awards Committee (2008-09), Accreditation & Curriculum Issues Committee (2006-07), Awards Committee (2004-05), and Nominations Committee (2003-04). She has served on the AAA Strategic Region Leader Committee as co-chair (2014-15), and as a member of the Council Committee on the Awards Committee (2013-14), Deloitte Wildman Award Committee (2010-11), AAA Journals Task Force (2004-05), and AAA Nominations Committee (2003-04).

Professor Christensen has 28 years’ teaching experience and has received 12 awards for academic excellence, including Montana State University’s President’s Excellence in Teaching Award and President's Award for Excellence in Service Learning; the College's Distinguished Faculty Award and Dean's Award for Outstanding Performance in Service; and the ATA's Ray M. Sommerfeld Outstanding Tax Educator Award and Outstanding Service Award.

In addition to the great above-listed plenary and lunch speakers, the concurrent sessions during the Annual Meeting will include some exciting at-large panel sessions, which we hope you will be able to attend. The meeting will also feature the fourth annual Global Emerging Scholars Research Workshop, which will be held on Sunday, and the Faculty-Student Collaborations in Accounting (FASTCA-17), which will be held on Wednesday.

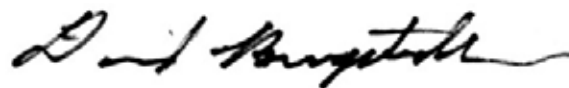

The purpose of the Global Emerging Scholars Workshop is to provide access to senior leadership to help scholars develop their research. The scholars who attend the workshop will have the opportunity to present their papers and receive constructive feedback from senior mentors and their fellow scholars. Co-chairs Wayne Landsman, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and Recep Pekdemir, Istanbul University, will again be joined by a group of distinguished faculty scholars. This year's faculty includes Jonathan Glover, Columbia University; Eva Labro, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Terry Shevlin, University of California, Irvine; and Chris Williams, University of Michigan. The Global Emerging Scholars Research Workshop attendees will have the opportunity to network with renowned scholars of international standing and with fellow early-career researchers. In addition, the workshop provides a forum for the discussion of research ideas and issues that could lead to future collaboration among attendees.

FASTCA-17 serves to encourage the exploration and discussion of research collaborations between accounting faculty and undergraduate and master's students. This all-day workshop recognizes the importance of these relationships to creating important learning experiences for students, attracting students to the accounting profession and the accounting academy, as well as connecting the communities of faculty conducting collaborative research and teaching.

I am also pleased that, for this year's Service Project, the AAA has partnered with ShelterBox USA, an international disaster relief charity that delivers emergency shelter and vital aid to people affected by disasters worldwide. Since its inception, ShelterBox has responded to more than 270 disasters and humanitarian crises in more than 95 geographic locations and provided emergency aid for well over one million people. You can learn more about ShelterBox in this issue of the newsletter. Donations to this worthy cause can be made with your Annual Meeting registration or in person at the Service Project desk in San Diego.

The Annual Meeting is a major undertaking, and we could not make it all happen without the efforts of all the various committee members, member-volunteers, and AAA Professional Staff in Sarasota. Whether your focus is on cutting-edge academic accounting research, innovative teaching methods, and/or gaining a deeper understanding of the numerous issues facing the accounting and business worlds and society at large, the 2017 Annual Meeting will provide numerous opportunities to learn, collaborate, catch up with old friends and colleagues, and make new connections.

I hope to see you all in San Diego this August as we "Imagine Our Future" together!

22nd Annual Ethics Research Symposium

Do Accounting ethics inspire you? If so, then the 22nd Annual Ethics Research Symposium is for you! All AAA members are invited to attend the Symposium on Sunday, August 6, 2017, preceding the AAA Annual Meeting in San Diego, CA. Registration includes the Saturday reception and Accounting Exemplar Award Luncheon on Sunday.

The Symposium encourages thoughtful research on the ethical applications of teaching, practice, and/or business that ultimately benefit the individual, government, or society. Accordingly, we challenge researchers in other accounting areas to identify and address the ethical implications of their research. The Symposium will recognize and award research in the following categories: Best Research Paper, Best Innovation for Teaching, Best Paper by a Current Doctoral Student, and Best Paper by a Recent Graduate (graduation from a doctoral program must have occurred within the last three years).

Additional networking opportunities are also available at our Pre-Symposium Reception at 6:30 pm on Saturday, August 5. Come out and meet new colleagues, greet old friends, and welcome doctoral students to our premier group of ethics researchers! More information about the Symposium can be found at <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/2017/Annual-Meeting/Program/Ethics-Symposium>

Questions can be sent to Annie McGowan, Texas A&M University, AMcGowan@mays.tamu.edu, and Brian Shapiro, University of St. Thomas, bpshapiro@stthomas.edu

AAA Service Project

2017 Service Project Partner: ShelterBox
Consider Making a Contribution When You Register!

What Is the Service Project?

The AAA Service Project began at the 2011 Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado, with a donation of 500 backpacks to the Denver school system. Thanks to the generosity of our members, we have been able to donate hundreds of backpacks each year filled with new school supplies for children who may not otherwise have supplies for school.

New for 2017!

This year, the AAA is taking a more global approach by partnering with ShelterBox (<http://shelterboxusa.org/index.php>). Continuing our tradition of giving to those who may otherwise go without, donations collected will be used to provide emergency shelter and lifesaving equipment to survivors of a disaster or humanitarian crisis worldwide. As the largest community of accountants in academia, we are delighted and proud to be able to make a difference in the lives of so many families!

We Need Your Help to Make a Difference! Please Donate Now.

- Donate when you register for the Annual Meeting <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/Meeting-Info/sessionaltcd/17AM08>
- Donate through the Service Project Donation page <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/Meeting-Info/sessionaltcd/17AMsp08>
- Donate at the Service Project Desk at the Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego
- Not attending the Annual Meeting? You can still donate at <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/Meeting-Info/sessionaltcd/17AMsp08>

Your tax-deductible donation (U.S.) is used to provide support for all costs associated with ShelterBox worldwide deployments, including but not limited to lifesaving equipment, response teams, transportation, and collaboration with local or international partners.

How much does one ShelterBox cost?

One ShelterBox = $1,000

How much do supplies cost?

- | | |
|------------------------|--------------------------------|
| • $650 Tent | • $30 Mosquito Net |
| • $250 ShelterKit | • $25 Solar Light |
| • $100 Basic Tool Kit | • $20 Children's Activity Kit |
| • $40 Cooking Set | |
| • $35 Water Filter | |

Want to learn more and see a tent and ShelterBox supplies? Stop by the Service Project Desk at the Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego.

Together, we can make a difference in the lives of children and families around the world. The AAA thanks you for your donation to the Service Project!

Questions about the Service Project? Contact Barbara Gutierrez at barbara.gutierrez@aaahq.org

ShelterBox is a disaster relief charity that provides emergency shelter and lifesaving equipment to disaster survivors worldwide. ShelterBox aid is tailored to meet the needs of every disaster. Volunteer-based ShelterBox Response Teams hand-deliver aid across the world, often partnering with other aid organizations, government officials, and community leaders to determine the most vulnerable.

1 WIND

ShelterBox tents are tested in winds up to 70 mph where, even without guy ropes, they remain sturdy.

3 STRESS

Flexible tent poles reduce damage from impacts, helping the tent withstand falling and flying debris.

2 RAIN

The tent's nylon outer wicks away moisture to keep the interior dry, even in driving rains.

4 HEAT

A reflective exterior shields from UV light, while ventilation windows allow the breeze to roll in.

5 COLD

A detachable thermal layer keeps warmth locked in, while the nylon outer stops frost developing.

NOT JUST A SHELTER.

A TEMPORARY HOME.

Our tents are designed to withstand extreme temperatures, high winds, and heavy rainfall. Internally, each tent has privacy partitions that allow recipients to divide the space as they see fit. These are just some of the things we've engineered ShelterBox tents to withstand.

SHELTER, WARMTH, AND DIGNITY.

A ShelterBox typically contains a family relief tent, water filter, solar light, cookware, children's activity kit, a toolkit, blankets, and bedsheets.

A ShelterKit contains reinforced tarps, basic tools, rope, and fixings, such as nails, screws, and twine to enable a family to secure an existing structure.

SHELTERBOXUSA.ORG

ShelterBox USA is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that relies on private donations to provide shelter, warmth, and dignity to disaster survivors worldwide.

Career Center

Career Center at the Annual Meeting

The Career Center at the Annual Meeting is the AAA's largest recruiting event, where applicants and institutions from across the world can network and explore opportunities.

Please visit the AAA Annual Meeting website at <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/2017/Annual-Meeting> for additional news and announcements about the Career Center at the 2017 Annual Meeting.

Career Events at the 2017 Annual Meeting

If you are looking to fill a job or advance your career, we invite you to join us in San Diego to take advantage of our career events!

The Career Center will be located in the Marriott Marquis San Diego Marina and will take place from Sunday August 6 through Wednesday morning August 9, so there will be plenty of time to network and set up interviews.

- Interview Hall: Your university will have the ability to maximize its recruiting time by purchasing time slots in our Interview Hall. The Interview Hall will feature privacy with each individual interview table having drapes on three sides.
- Preparing for the Interview Process: This session is held on Sunday afternoon, August 6 from 2:00 pm to 3:30 pm. This workshop is intended for job seekers who are interested in learning or reviewing skills that are helpful while going through the job-seeking process.
- Career Fair: The Fair takes place on Sunday evening from 4:30 pm–7:00 pm on August 6 in the Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego. The Career Fair offers both employers and job seekers a chance to get to know each other outside of a formal interview format.

We invite you to take advantage of these unique opportunities. For more information on locations, please visit <http://aaahq.org/Meetings/2017/Annual-Meeting/Events/Career-Center>
