Why YOU Need to Attend the 2023 Annual Meeting in Denver, CO!

Collaborate and Connect.

The Annual Meeting allows you to engage with other scholars and researchers, explore potential collaborations, and make lifelong connections with like-minded professionals. Meet new colleagues from around the world, reconnect with old friends, chat with various exhibitors, and participate in social events.

Contribute to Your Professional Success.

There will be a wide array of sessions available for you to make a difference. Engaging with accounting faculty, accounting professionals, and regulators will help you grow - and solidify your position as a key contributor to the global community of accounting educators.

Stay in the Know.

Keep abreast on current technologies and best practices for education and research at the various sessions, workshops, the Exhibit Hall, and special sessions like the Conference on Teaching and Learning in Accounting (CTLA), and the 27th Annual Ethics Research Symposium. Attending pre-meeting workshops is an efficient way to learn from master teachers and enhance your courses.

Professional Development.

Earn continuing education credit for participation in workshops, presenting research, and attending sessions. You can earn CPE credits over the course of the main 3-day meeting. Additional credit hours can be earned by attending pre-conference workshops, CTLA, and Section breakfasts and lunches that feature speakers.

Celebrate.

Numerous award presentations are made at the Annual Meeting—from the AAA, as well as individual Sections—and many of the recipients host sessions to share their expertise.

Be Inspired.

The plenary and lunch speakers are successful authors, dynamic presenters, and recognized thought leaders. Come and be inspired by professionals you're unlikely to see on campus!

Have Fun...and Bring Your Family & Friends!

It's not all work and no play...enjoy various receptions, special events, and camaraderie at lunches with new friends and old colleagues. Your family and friends can enjoy the Arapahoe Springs Water Park at the Gaylord Rockies Resort and Convention Center, as well as numerous parks, museums, and attractions in the surrounding Denver area.
