J. Mack Robinson College of Business
Georgia State University

Call for Papers

The Department of Finance and the School of Accountancy of the J. Mack Robinson College of Business at Georgia State University invite authors to submit theoretical and empirical papers in all areas of finance and accounting for the 32nd Annual Conference on Financial Economics and Accounting (CFEA).

CFEA is an annual conference organized by members of a consortium representing eight universities: Georgia State University, Indiana University, New York University, Rutgers University, Temple University, Tulane University, the University of Maryland, and the University of Toronto. It is a highly selective and refereed conference of research papers in financial economics and accounting. The conference aims at bringing together financial economists and accounting scholars to share their research relevant to theory and practice of business, with a special focus on the intersection of the two fields of research.
