

FIRST CALL FOR PAPERS

The 34th CONFERENCE FOR FINANCIAL ECONOMICS AND ACCOUNTING

October 24-26, 2024

University at Buffalo, School of Management, Buffalo New York

The Finance and Accounting Department at the School of Management, University at Buffalo is pleased to host the 34th Annual Conference for Financial Economics and Accounting on October 24- 26, 2024.

The CFEA

CFEA is organized by members of a consortium representing 10 universities: Georgia State University, Indiana University, Michigan State University, New York University, Rutgers University, Temple University, Tulane University, University at Buffalo, University of Maryland, and University of Toronto.

The 34TH CFEA (October 24-26, 2024)

This is a highly selective and refereed conference aimed to bring together financial economists and accounting scholars to share their research relevant to theory and practice of business, with a special focus on the intersection of the two fields of research.

Attendees will include academics, practitioners and PhD students at all levels of experience, and involved with all aspects of theory and practice in accounting, economics, finance and other disciplines.

Paper Submissions

Authors are invited to submit papers in all areas of finance and accounting, and papers where these areas may overlap. This year's conference will feature special sessions on machine learning, artificial intelligence, big data and fintech.

There is a submission fee of $50 per paper that must be paid when the paper is submitted. Instructions on how to upload papers will be in the return email after payment of the submission fee.

Payment can be made using this website.

The deadline for submitting papers is June 30, 2024, 11:59 p.m. ET.
