

Jim Benjamin Lifetime Service Award Sponsored by PwC and the Leadership Section

Leadership in Accounting Education

Overview

The Jim Benjamin Lifetime Service Award honors Jim Benjamin for outstanding service over his career to his institution, the Leadership in Accounting Education section, the American Accounting Association, and the accounting profession. The Jim Benjamin Lifetime Service Award recognizes outstanding lifetime contributions to accounting education.

The Leadership in Accounting Education Section Awards Committee will review nominations and select the awardee. PwC generously supports a $5,000 award for the winner. The awardee will be recognized at the Leadership in Accounting Education Seminar in February.

Criteria

The Awards Committee will assess nominations with respect to their evidence of the nominee's:

- Impact on their own institution
- Impact on accounting education
- Impact on the accounting academy

To Nominate a Colleague

Please submit a single pdf document that includes the following:

- a. Name of nominator and their institution
- b. Name of the nominee and their institution
- c. A description of the nominee's impact on their own institution, accounting education, the accounting profession, or the accounting academy. Evidence to support those impacts is highly encouraged.
- d. Supporting materials (e.g., letters of support or examples of resources or content)
- e. Any other material you believe the committee will find decision-relevant. You may include links to videos or web-based materials in the pdf.

Please submit your materials in a SINGLE PDF document here: Jim Benjamin Lifetime Service Award submissions. Use the naming convention FirstName_LastName.pdf.

All materials should be submitted by October 1, and awardees will be announced in February. For any questions, please contact Sharon Lassar at sharon.lassar@du.edu.

We look forward to reviewing the contributions of our faculty colleagues and in joining PwC in honoring Jim Benjamin for his many contributions to accounting education.
